
Career and Leadership Acceleration Program Overview

“Where Preparation Drives Opportunity”

Find your rewarding career path and accelerate your career into leadership!

Build confidence, take on more responsibility, have more influence in your career, and make more money.

This program is your guide, and includes everything you need to develop skills, create the time in your busy life, build rapport and confidence, and get through any roadblocks in order to drive career success!

Designed To Fit Your Schedule

The program was designed with the idea that its participants are already busy at work and home, so is flexible to accommodate your schedule.

Learning material can be accessed at your leisure, there are regular coaching options from Luke each week, and an aspiring community to support you.

A Community of Motivated Leaders

Through this Mastermind experience, you will be just as inspired and motivated by the rest of the community as you will be from the leader teaching the course.

Teaching Through Experience

Luke coaches engineers to accelerate their careers into leadership based on his experience as an engineer who has quickly progressed to manage hundreds of people throughout several leadership roles in his career, and after completing numerous leadership trainings over time and the London Business School Executive Education, he is now poised to move into an executive role in his early 30's. He takes all of the experience that he's collected over the years along with his career and leadership coaching experience and condenses it into this program.

Success Stories

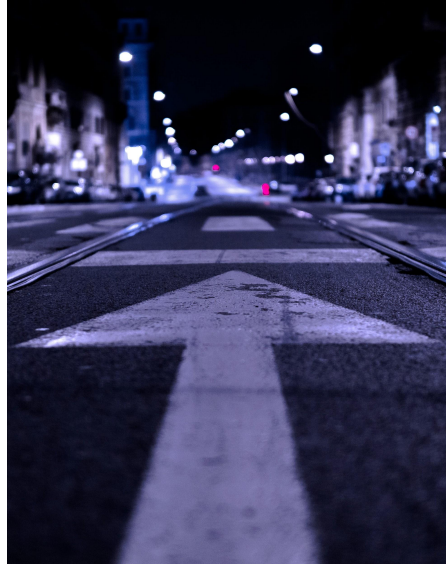

- Travis advanced from an industrial plant engineer in 2017 to an operations manager, and then maintenance manager in 2018, increasing his annual income from $100k per year to more than $150k per year.
- Matt advanced from an electrical engineer in 2017 to an industrial operations manager, and now a plant manager in 2019 increasing his annual income from $110k per year to more than $180k per year.
- Diane advanced from an industrial plant engineer in 2016 to an operations manager in 2017, increasing her annual income from $90k per year to more than $120k per year.

Testimonials

"This course has some life changing powerful home truths – for you – for the people you work with, and for your organization."

-Clayton L.

"A great resource for anyone aspiring to improve their personal acumen and do more for themselves."

-Euan S.

Testimonials

“These courses boil down hundreds of hours of experience and thousands of data points to exactly what matters most, saving me both time and money! I find myself revisiting the courses every few weeks, and I can pull them up right on my phone for a quick refresher before talking to my employees. It has made me more confident, more effective, and more respected as a manager.”

-Elliot L.

Testimonials

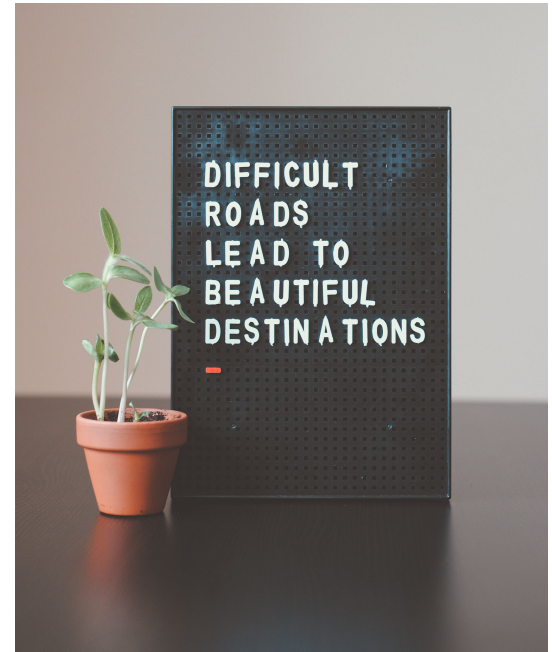

"Luke assisted me with enhancing my strengths and refining my weaknesses. This allowed me to be more confident about my abilities and helped me bridge the gap to my first leadership role. His unique leadership perspective helped me with defining the type of leader I am today."

-Travis S.

How Do I Qualify?

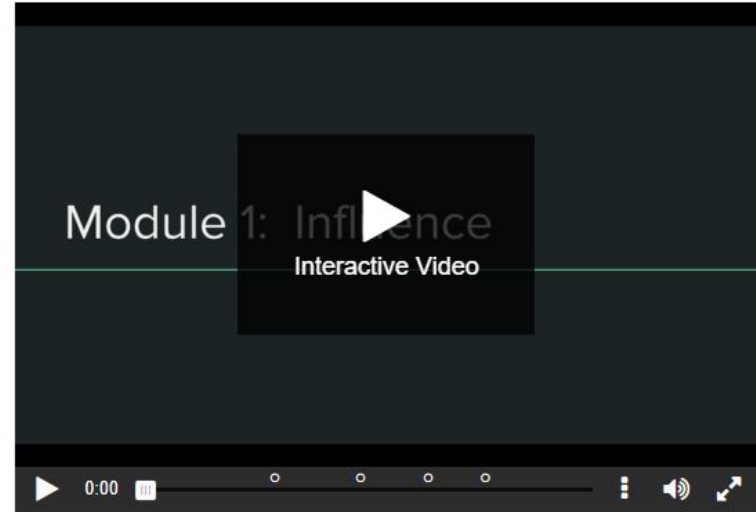

Engineers who can expect the greatest success from the Career and Leadership Acceleration Program are:

- Committed to driving career success.
- Committed to becoming a leader.
- Looking to make more money.
- Looking to make a broader career impact and have more influence.
- Wanting to get ahead of peers and accelerate their careers.
- Willing to spend the time and effort to progress their careers.
- Willing to participate and share with others.

What's Included?

- 6 month career development and coaching program
- Online career and leadership development materials - 18 key subjects
- Two weekly Q&A calls: 2 hours of support and guidance on each call for 1:1 discussion with Luke and support from the community
- Private online discussion forum: post anytime for feedback and collaboration from Luke and the community
- Access to Luke's recruiter network, where your resume is being personally sent to recruiters by an established career coach. Working with a recruiter only gets you access to the specific roles that individual is working on, having a network of recruiters multiplies your opportunity!

Career and Leadership Accelerator Process

1. Everyone's needs and interests are different, so the program will be catered to your individual needs.
2. We will explore details about your background and career interests together.
3. Map out a career blueprint with various pathways to get into leadership that also have continued growth potential.

Career and Leadership Accelerator Process

4. Make you marketable external to your company, by optimizing your resume and online career profiles with the key components that recruiters and companies are looking for, to get you recognized and in front of peers so recruiters and companies are reaching out to you. Even if you aren't looking to leave your company, this helps to both prepare information for internal interviews at your company, and gives you a pulse on the opportunities and compensation that is available to you outside of your company.
5. Send your resume to Luke's recruiter network.
6. Develop strategies for the conversations with recruiters and companies as they reach out to you.

Career and Leadership Accelerator Process

7. Whether moving to a new company or staying with your existing company, we would develop and execute a networking plan to build your image, rapport, and reputation so you're recognized as being ready to move into leadership, again in front of peers. It includes putting you in front of HR and leaders, learning what's important to them for you to move into a leadership role, and so that they're aware of your career interests and have you in mind for future leadership roles.
8. Develop leadership skills through the online video courses and tools in the Career and Leadership Accelerator Program.

Career and Leadership Accelerator Process

9. Prepare for interviews together.
10. Maximize your pay by managing through the softer parts of HR negotiation together.
11. Ensure you have a successful start in a new role and are recognized as a top performer, to continue accelerating your career going forward.

Return on Investment

Invest in your future!

- One intent of the program is to quickly return your investment.
 - For example, if your annual income increases by $24k, that's $2k per month more in your pocket.
- For those who are more motivated by the rewarding lifestyle that leadership offers (having a broader influence and impact, developing and leading others, implementing vision and strategy), that is another return on your investment.

14 Day Money Back Guarantee

- This program has been proven to get results.
- Try the program risk free and if you're not happy with it, ask for a refund within 14-days and I'll refund you in full.
